FROM THREE CAUSES

Full Reports Have Not Been Received,
But It Is Certain That Hurricane,
Earthquakes and Floods Were Severe.

New York, Nov. 13.—Reports of enormous damage by floods, hurricane and earthquakes continue to come from the West Indies. Hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth in property was ruined, and the death list may be large when complete information comes from the interior of the islands over the broken lines of communication.

Hayti was racked by earthquakes, with heavy damage at Port Depax, and deaths at Gonaves. San Domingo caught the brunt of the hurricane which also swept Jamaica. The hurricane is now moving toward Bermuda and the Bahamas. There were 48 inches of rainfall in Kingston. All the railroads are gone, and the fruit crop is ruined for years to come. The United Fruit company's steamer Bridgford is a total wreck off Port Antonio, where many small boats were also wrecked.

HOLMES BACK IN ASYLUM.

Located in Providence After Escaping
While on Leave of Absence.

Providence, Nov. 13.—After a lively chase Arthur E. Holmes, who disappeared from the Taunton state hospital for the insane last Saturday, was found in a house on Friendship street yesterday by the police. According to the story told to police headquarters, Holmes was committed to the hospital from Wrentham, Mass., after he had threatened to kill his father. Last Saturday his sister appeared at the hospital with an automobile and asked the superintendent's permission to take her brother for an hour's ride. The permission was granted and the pair disappeared.

When they failed to return, the hospital authorities began a search for Holmes, which took them to Woonsocket, the former home of Holmes' father, and thence to this city. Chief Inspector Horton assigned Inspector MacLean to the case, and the latter began yesterday morning a house to house search of Friendship street. He soon found the home of Miss Holmes and when he entered was confronted by Holmes. The sister, however, was out at the time. Holmes was taken back to Taunton last night.

ASSAULTED AT
CHURCH DOORFrancisco Musolino Cut with a Razor.
He Had Just Made Plans for His Wedding at North End.

Boston, Nov. 13.—As he was emerging from the Italian Church of the Sacred Heart, North square, yesterday with his bride-to-be, Francisco Musolino, 38 years old, of 113 Brighton street, was assaulted with a razor by Paolo F. Lena, 45 years old, of 1 North square, a brother of the young woman.

Musolino and his sweetheart, Miss Conchetta Lena, went to the church shortly before noon yesterday to complete arrangements for their marriage. As they were leaving the church, Lena, it is charged, struck at Musolino with a razor, inflicting a wound on the cheek. Musolino raised his right hand to protect himself from a second blow, and the razor struck his right thumb, almost severing it. Musolino was taken to the relief hospital. His injuries are not serious.

Musolino told the police that his sweetheart's brother, Paolo, did the cutting. Conchetta, he said, was a favorite sister of Paolo, who was opposed to her marriage. Musolino said he knew that Paolo disliked him, but he never believed that his opposition would take such a violent form.

Following the cutting, a general alarm was sent out by the police. About half an hour later, the police of division 7 arrested a man who had a loaded revolver in his pocket. This man, Salvatore Introsano of Hull street, was taken to the relief station. Musolino said that he was not the assailant, and his sweetheart said the same.

Introsano was then taken to station 1 and about 5:30 he was delivered to the police of division 7, who will prosecute him for carrying a loaded revolver.

The fugitive is in the real estate business and Musolino is a shoemaker employed at Lynn.

Boston, Nov. 13.—The betting on the Dartmouth-Harvard game is practically even. The Harvardians are very confident. $5,000 will see the game.

COY IN THE LINE-UP.

General Belief Is That Yale Will Win
Today's Game.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 13.—Coy was in the line-up against Princeton this afternoon as it is believed there is little doubt Yale will win by a fair score. Fifteen thousand came from New York to see the game.

MADE NEW 50-MILE RECORD.

Robertson Clipped Old Time Nearly Five Minutes.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 13.—Yesterday's automobile races reached their climax when George H. Robertson driving a 60-horse power Fiat, lowered the American track record for 50 miles by four minutes and seven seconds. The previous record was held by John Aiken, who made the distance at Indianapolis in 44:21.2. Aiken, who drove a National to second place in yesterday's race, and Stillman, who came in third in a Marmon, both bettered the Indianapolis mark. Aiken made the distance in 43:11.41 and Stillman in 43:30.26.

Five of the eight starters finished. Lewis Strang piloting his 200 horsepower Fiat, set a terrific pace in the first 17 miles, but in the 18th, the tire of the rear right wheel exploded compelling his withdrawal.

While on the 27th mile, with Lorimer to the left and Dingley close behind, Hugh Harding in an Apperson attempted to escape from a pocket. Lorimer blew a tire, running against the fence and losing a wheel. Harding, six feet behind, also threw a tire, but managed to avoid running into his rival.

During the practice hour a specially designed and high powered Pope-Tobin car was wrecked. H. J. Kilpatrick, the driver, and R. Church, his mechanic, were thrown 150 feet from their seats, but they fell in underbrush and escaped with slight injuries. The car was a total loss.

The blowing up of Strang's tire gave Robertson the lead at the end of the 20th mile. He was followed by Aiken, Harding, Lorimer, Stillman, Dingley, and Disbrow. After the accident to Harding and Lorimer, Stillman occupied third place until he finished.

HEAT PROSTRATION
ON NOVEMBER 12West End Folk Bat Ice Cream on Their Doorssteps in the Evening—Kiosk
Thermometer Says 80.

Boston, Nov. 13.—Thomas P. Johnson, 71, of Almond court, Malden, was overcome by the heat yesterday in South Boston. He became ill and entered the undertaking establishment of J. B. Cole, 124 Dorchester street. An electric breeze operated by his entrance attracted the attention of an employer, who found Mr. Johnson senseless. On recovering consciousness Mr. Johnson was taken home.

In the West end last night people ate ice cream on their doorssteps. During the day everybody in flannels and overcoats went about uncomfortably with the mercury in the vicinity of 76. It was the hottest November day in the history of the weather bureau, founded in 1871.

About the time yesterday that the prostration of Thomas P. Johnson on Dorchester Heights was reported, a bulletin from Battleford, British North-west, said that the temperature there was 14 degrees below zero.

At times yesterday the weather was more balmy than at the same hour in Los Angeles. The lowest temperature, just before sunrise, was 57 degrees, and at 2:30 o'clock 76 was the record. The kiosk on the common at 3 o'clock showed 80 degrees.

SAILS FOR HOME.

Mrs. Roosevelt and Daughter Left
Naples Last Night.

Naples, Nov. 13.—Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt and her daughter, Miss Ethel, boarded the steamer, Konig Albert, for New York last evening.

Before departing Mrs. Roosevelt said she had received no direct communication from Colonel Roosevelt or her son, Kermit, but was hopeful that some news from them would come to her by wireless during the voyage to the United States.

BODY STILL WARM.

Mulatto Girl Was Murdered Near Washington Last Night.

Upper Marlboro, Md., Nov. 13.—The body of an unidentified mulatto girl, about 13 years old and well dressed, with her throat cut from ear to ear, was found in Palmer's woods, a short distance from District of Columbia line in Prince George's county, last evening. The body was still warm. The case bears evidence of being one of criminal assault and murder.

CABOT.

Miss Annie Tebbetts visited in Calais
Monday.

Fred Emery has moved into the Bemis Pike house.

Mrs. Frank Cameron is seriously ill at Lower Cabot.

Mrs. H. H. Foster is taking a business trip in the eastern part of the state.

The farm buildings of Daniel Hopkins were burned down Monday morning.

J. G. Pike is confined to the house by illness of heart trouble to a serious extent.

W. P. Lance and Leon Haines were in Greensboro Thursday looking at cows and horses.

Edgar Peck and family have gone to Connecticut, where he has a position on a farm.

Frank Kenerson was in Barre this week in the interests of the Eastern Estate Tax Co.

Frank Phelps has moved his family from the Bemis Pike place to the house near Carry Smith's.

Mrs. S. A. Davis and daughter, Pauline, have returned from a few days' visit at Lyndonville.

Howard and Pliny Pike were over from St. Johnsbury last Sunday to see their father, J. G. Pike.

Mrs. Harrie Haines of Greensboro was summoned home Thursday by the serious illness of her father, J. G. Pike. Orono, Me., is ill with grippe.

Friday evening, November 19th, the grammar and primary departments of the upper village school will give a free public entertainment in village hall, consisting of speaking, singing, dialogues, tableaux, etc., which doubtless will well pay one for the time spent listening to them. Everybody invited.

Rev. F. E. Carrier has returned from his vacation of two weeks for rest, much improved.

SUPERVISOR
FOR VERMONTLynn M. Hays of Burlington
Gets His Appointment

FOR 1910 CENSUS WORK

He Has Already Conducted a Mass of Correspondence in Anticipation of His Appointment—Many Applications Received.

Burlington, Nov. 13.—His official appointment as supervisor of the census for Vermont was received today by Lynn M. Hays of this city. Mr. Hays has already conducted a mass of correspondence, pending his formal appointment, and he has received a basketful of applications for enumerators.

He is at present head of an advertising firm of this city. Prior to that he was editor of the Essex Junction Syndicate, which publishes a number of newspapers at Essex Junction. Before coming to Vermont he was engaged in reportorial work on the Boston Globe. He was a member of the Vermont commission which had charge of the celebration of the discovery of Lake Champlain last summer, being secretary of that organization and publicity agent.

His appointment was decided upon several months ago when an agreement was reached by the Vermont delegation in Congress. He is generally considered to be a capable man for the place.

SPEAKER CANNON SAYS
CONG. PARSONS LIEDIn Bitter Speech He Accuses His Detractors of Various Personal Reasons for Opposing Him—Calls
Them All Liars.

Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 13.—Declaring that opposition to himself is due to his refusal of a bribe of influence to do their bidding, Speaker Cannon defended himself in a bitter speech here today. He declared that Herman Ridder, in the last campaign, offered him the united support of all the big papers for president, if he would force Congress to remove the wool pump tariff. Before the Business Men's association, he branded as a liar the report that he obstructed the investigation of the temperance bill, and declared that both La Follette and Cummins have lied about his course in recent utterances. Herbert Parsons also went into the "Annie's club." "When he asserted that I entered into a combination with the Democrats, whereby I was to have the House rules controlled, he maliciously and deliberately lied," shouted Speaker Cannon, pounding the table with his fist. He was never so angry before in a public speech, and made it evident he meant to fight to the last ditch to keep his power.

PETER DELOREY HOME
NIGHT OF MURDERSister So Swears in Court at Cambridge
Today—Aunt Always Spoke Well of Mantir Boy.

Boston, Nov. 13.—Mabel Delorey, a sister of Peter, who, with James Mantir, is being tried for the murder of Annie Mullins, today on the stand in the East Cambridge court swore that Peter was with the family at home on the night of the murder of the Mullins girl. She said her aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Delorey, who informed on Mantir and Peter, always said that Mantir was a good, offensive boy when he worked for her.

PAGIN DROWNED FROM DORY.

Schooner Ameda Puts in at Gloucester to Report Loss of One.

Gloucester, Mass., Nov. 13.—The schooner Ameda, Capt. Charles Davy, came in here yesterday and reports the loss of one of her crew, Barney Fagin. The Ameda left port yesterday for the fishing grounds and when about 15 miles off-shore the crew set out from the vessel in single dories to set their trawls.

All returned except Fagin. Search was made for him for six hours, but nothing but the dory of the man was found.

It is supposed that when setting his trawls he fell overboard and was drowned. The day was as mild as summer and the water was smooth. Fagin was a native of St. Joseph, N.Y., and was 37 years old. He leaves a wife and two children, who live in Malden.

SEARCH SEA FOR BODIES.

Government Diver Went Down Off Block
Island Today.

Newport, Nov. 13.—Government Diver McMahon today began a search of the hull of the wrecked Merrill C. Hart, which was sunk off Block Island after a collision with the barkentine John W. Bennett. It is hoped he will recover the bodies of the eleven who perished in the crash.

All returned except Fagin. Search was made for him for six hours, but nothing but the dory of the man was found.

It is supposed that when setting his trawls he fell overboard and was drowned. The day was as mild as summer and the water was smooth. Fagin was a native of St. Joseph, N.Y., and was 37 years old. He leaves a wife and two children, who live in Malden.

BATTLEBORO INANE TO BE RECOMMENDED.

Battleboro, Nov. 13.—Petitions for the recommendation of the insane persons of Battleboro, who are confined in the Battleboro retreat, were filed with Judge A. F. Schwab of the probate court yesterday. The recent decision of the supreme court that the former commitments were illegal has been the subject of much discussion.

MOTHER FOUND DEAD,
HER CHILD DYINGShe Had Committed Suicide by Inhaling
Gas, While Clinging Her Child to Her Breast.

Burlington, Nov. 13.—Leaving a note reading, "Hope you will be happy, now that I am gone, goodbye," evidently intended for her husband, Mrs. Frank Burdo of Church street went to the little kitchen of her flat over Stiles & Kim's jewelry store with her four month old son and turned on the gas in a stove burner and waited for death. There she was discovered by an elder son, Clarence, when he returned from school yesterday afternoon. The windows and doors were tightly closed and the gas was turned on to its limit, bearing out the theory of suicide as conveyed by the note.

The first news of the suicide was received about 4:30, when Clarence, with a playmate, Winton Wetherell, found the dead woman. The first impulse of the children was to seek their mother, and they immediately rushed up to the home of the Wetherell boy, on Church street. Mr. Wetherell, who lives next door, heard the story of the children. He went at once to the scene, and found the child had the appearance of being alive and Mr. Palmer took him out into the air at once. In Taft's drug store, restorative measures were taken and an attempt made to find a physician. Dr. Sam Sparhawk was summoned, but when he arrived the child was pronounced dead.

Meanwhile Officer Henry had taken charge of affairs at the house and had caused the chief of police as well as the health officer, Dr. C. F. Dalton, to be summoned. They arrived in a short time and conducted an examination, which resulted in the finding of little besides what has been mentioned.

Burdo, who is a motorman, running on the Winoski line, heard nothing of the happening at his home for fully an hour later. He was met by an official of the road as he was making his last trip to the city. The news was broken to him gently, the informant beginning by telling him that his wife and child were dangerously ill. He divined the story, however, and left his car in front of his home. Burdo is in a pitiful condition as a result of the double tragedy and completely unnerved.

Mr. and Mrs. Burdo were married 15 years ago in Melrose, Mass. They have lived together in this city nearly that length of time. Three children have been born to them and their life had evidently been a happy one. Their flat is really fitted up and nothing would point to such a climax.

The dead woman was about 39 years of age and was born in Grand Isle, before her marriage she was Miss Hattie Wilbur. Her parents are alive. She leaves two children, Clarence, 10 years old, and Alice, who is nine.

The bodies were taken to Clement's undertaking rooms, where they will remain, awaiting their removal to the home of Mrs. Martha Burns, mother of Mr. Burdo on Concord square, where the funeral will be held.

A strange fact is that Mrs. Burdo, a few hours before her death, made an appointment with a relative on North avenue to meet her and to discuss plans for the celebration of one of the children's birthdays. At that time she appeared rational.

SUCCEEDS R. B. SMALLEY.

As the President of Burlington Trust Company.

Burlington, Nov. 13.—Henry L. Ward has been elected president of the Burlington Trust company, to succeed the late R. B. Smalley, and Daniel W. Robinson has been chosen vice-president to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Ward's promotion. Edmund C. Mower has been elected secretary of the board of directors. Mr. Ward formerly holding that office.

Mr. Ward, the new president, received his early banking training under his father, the late C. F. Ward, in the Burlington Savings bank and when the Burlington Trust company was organized in 1880 he was made its first treasurer and held the office until 1907, when he was made vice-president to succeed Mr. Smalley, who became president after the death of Edward Wells. Mr. Ward had a prominent part in the formation of the Vermont State Bankers' association in August of last year, was elected president of the association and is now holding the office.

LABORER RECEIVES $5,000.

Joseph Hawes of Brockton an Heir to $65,000 Estate.

Brockton, Mass., Nov. 13.—Joseph Hawes, a laborer in the employ of the water department of this city, is one of the heirs to the estate of Simon Hawes of New Bedford, estimated at about $65,000 and the first money from his share of the estate has come. In consequence Mr. Hawes is taking a vacation this week.

The sum he has received is stated to be $5,000. His portion of the amount realized by the sale of a tract of land and houses. With the money he is now planning to build a home. He has supported his family for years on his earnings as a laborer.

A Sybarite.

In the gray light of early morning the traveler in Scotland faced the night clerk resolutely. "You gave me the worst bed in the inn!" he began, indignation in his voice and eyes. "If you don't change me before tonight I shall look up other lodgings."

"There is no difference in the beds, sir," the clerk replied respectfully.

"If that is so," he said, "perhaps you wouldn't mind giving me the room on the left of mine."

"I know it is. By a man who snored all night, and was still at it ten minutes ago. His bed must be better than mine, or he couldn't sleep at a maximum capacity of sound eight hours on a stretch."

"The beds are all alike, sir. That man has been here before, and he always sleeps on the floor, sir."—Youth's Companion.

Absolutely Right.

A pretty young schoolmarm who teaches a first-grade class in a school of the northeastern section of the city is telling a funny story on herself that happened just before the close of the term. She had some visitors in the room in question, and thought she would show them what a good class she had. Calling on a bright little fellow at the rear of the room, she said to him: "Johnnie, if I gave you 2 cents and your father gave you 3 cents, how much would you have?"

"Seven," promptly replied Johnnie.

The teacher blushed painfully, but thought that she would try again. "You can't have understood me, Johnnie. Now listen, and I will repeat the question. If I gave you two cents and your father gave you three, how much would you have?"

"Seven," said Johnnie again, and with the same promptness.

"I am surprised at you, Johnnie," said the teacher. "How on earth would you have 7?"

"I got 2 in my pocket," said Johnnie. Philadelphia Times.

Lowell, Mass., Nov. 13.—Howard S. Barber of Concord, N. H., was instantly killed here this morning while stepping off a Boston & Maine train.

JURY WAS
DEADLOCKEDAnd Had to be Discharged in Duggan vs. Heaphy

IN COUNTY COURT TO-DAY

Verdict for Plaintiff in Case of Bryan vs. Barnes, a Suit Over a Horse.Jury Discharged for the Term.

The jurors in Washington county court, having concluded their duties, were discharged to-day for the term by Judge Waterman at Montpelier. This followed the disagreement of the jury which had the case of Albie Duggan vs. Thomas J. Heaphy, proprietor of the Pavilion hotel in Montpelier, who had been sued by the woman for $6,000 for an injury sustained in the mangle machine in the laundry of the hotel.

The case was given to the jury late yesterday, and this morning the jury came in and reported that they had been unable to agree and wanted certain testimony read to them again. That related to the voluntary liability of an employee. After having had that read to them, they again retired, but could not agree, coming in again at noon and reporting that they were hopelessly tied up. Whereupon, they were discharged. The jury stood six to six.

When the testimony had been presented yesterday, Attorney C. H. Senter filed the motion that a verdict be rendered for the defendant on the grounds that it had not been proven that Mr. Heaphy was responsible. Judge Waterman overruled this motion pro forma. The arguments in the case were then made.

The jury in the case of Bryan vs. Barnes reported this noon a verdict for the plaintiff to recover $109.18.

Following the close of the Duggan vs. Heaphy case late yesterday county court took up the horse case of W. B. Bryan vs. Calvin Barnes, suit to recover for a horse which the defendant sold to the plaintiff and which is said to have "gone wrong" after sale. Mr. Bryan told of buying the horse, thinking that the animal was perfectly sound, only to find that it balked. Mr. Bryan told of buying the horse, thinking that the animal was perfectly sound, only to find that it barked.

A divorce has been granted to Frank H. Childs, a traveling salesman, from Maud H. (Phelps) Childs, who is thought to be in New York city. The plaintiff makes his headquarters in Montpelier and travels over Vermont and New Hampshire.

Mr. Childs testified that he was married to Maud H. Phelps in Boston on May 20, 1903. He stated that he was living with him but a few years when, missing the gay life of New York from whence she came, and not liking Vermont, she left him and he has only seen her twice since then. Milton O. Citchell of Boston, another traveling man, testified to knowing the petitioner and to the extravagance of his wife. He was followed by Charles Heaton of Montpelier, who told of Mr. Childs' good reputation in Montpelier. William Herick of New Bedford, testified that he was always found him to be a clean, upright man. Judge Waterman after interviewing Mr. Childs at some length, granted the divorce on the ground of desertion.

GEORGE MARTINI DEAD.

Had Been Ill For Three Years With Consumption.

George Martini died at 8 o'clock this morning at his home, 133 Cottage street, after a three years' illness with consumption. The deceased was born in Italy 22 years ago and came to this country 22 years ago. Eleven years ago he came to Barre to work at his trade as a stone cutter. He leaves a wife and four children, and his mother and one sister in Italy. The funeral will be held from the house Sunday afternoon. The interment will be in the Hope cemetery.

M. S. Students Give Play.

Several members of the junior and senior classes at Montpelier seminary presented a play, entitled "The Eloquent of Ellen," to a large audience last evening in the school building. The play was the best given there for some time, and the young actors handled their parts in a very creditable manner. Especially pleasing was the part of Max Ten Eyck, a New York society man, played by Charles N. Bemis of West Topsham. Music was furnished by the Bushnell orchestra, composed of Messrs. Almon and Verne Bushnell and Miss Pearl Johnson.

TALK OF THE TOWN

The Ida Read W. C. T. U. will hold a hash supper Tuesday evening at the Baptist church, 233 1/2 St. Paul street. Among the arrivals at the City hotel last evening and to-day were L. F. Hatch, Burlington; J. C. McIntosh, Montpelier; E. H. Snow, Auburn, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Clark, Boston; F. Jenks, Boston; George B. Hale, Lunenburg; Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Scribner, Corinth; C. R. Carpenter, Bellows Falls; W. Shaw, Burlington; C. H. Heaton, Montpelier.

Among the arrivals at the Hotel Otis yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. J. Seabert, New York; Fred Slack, Jr., New York; B. W. Cross, Boston; C. A. Childs, Boston; H. C. Smith, Burlington; E. P. Whitcomb, Marshfield; H. E. Burnham, Chicago; George Hubbard, Glens Falls, N. Y.; Henry H. Johnson, Burlington; Daniel Spencer, Albany, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Wright, Lowell, Mass.; R. J. Edwards, Jonestown; G. Van Amerigo, Springfield; S. W. Fletcher, Springfield; Henry Allison, Newark, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. John Blake, Concord, N. H.; Henry Coffin, Williamstown; thirteen members of the "Polly of the Circus" company.

Notice to City Water Users.

City water will be shut off Sunday, Nov. 14, from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m., for the purpose of cleaning mains.

THIS WAS A GOOD POLLY.

In Fact, One of the Best Plays Manager
Hoban Has Brought to Barre.

About fifty per cent. was added to the "Polly of the Circus," as presented at the Barre opera house last night, over the Polly of last season; and those who saw both productions were very much pleased with the surpassing performance last night. To begin with, it was the number one company which played here last night, headed by Edith Taliaferro, said to be the youngest leading lady on the stage to-day and, certainly, one of the most attractive for the part of the circus girl. Her personal charm and undoubted skill brought several curtain calls, and, even after the play was completed, the audience, small as it was, stayed and demanded two or three encores. Then, again, the entire circus scene, which was left out last year because it was said the stage was too small, was put on last night, with a complete ring and a set of circus performers, including an equestrian doing all the bare-back stunts to be seen in a real circus, acrobats and jugglers, while a handsome circus horse, a donkey and a pony were taken on the stage to make the scene more realistic. The scenic effects were also far better than last season; in fact, as entrancing as have been seen in Barre in a long time, particularly the closing scene, when the long line of circus wagons are seen trailing up the slope in actual motion, while little Polly and the minister (played finely by Frank Green) stand in the foreground, united in the happiness of true love. Barre theatre-goers who have not seen this production have really missed something worth while.

PAID FOR AMUSEMENT.

Lively Passenger on Electric Car Made
It Interesting, Though.

Lester Gould, who made things lively for motorman, conductor and passengers on the outgoing ten o'clock electric car from Montpelier last night, paid for his Montpelier city court this morning, although he got an assessment of only $12.14. Gould, who is a Wrightsville blacksmith, got on the car in Montpelier and when he found that he was being transported to Barre he wanted to get off, and lively, too.

He started in to reprimand Conductor James Keaton for presuming to lug him to Barre, and the conductor demurred at such treatment, so that before the crowd on the car realized it, the two were "mixing it up," very industriously. Motorman George Annis then took a hand, and, finally, the passengers, that is, some of them. When Gould had been subdued, someone telephoned for the Montpelier police, and Richard A. Standish's automobile was chartered to take the man to jail, where he remained until this morning, when he visited city court.

John Thomas of St. Albans, who had been there before, was also in Montpelier court and pleaded guilty to another experiment. His disclosure wasn't satisfactory to the judge, and Thomas went to county jail for thirty days with $22.14 on top of that.
